Interest Rate Methodology

Bajaj Housing Finance Limited (BHFL) has developed model for arriving at benchmark rates (BHFL FRR) for different type of customers such as Salaried, Self-employed and corporates. The model takes into consideration among other things BHFL's weighted average cost of funds, fund raising cost and liquidity/risk premium, negative carry on investments and expenses incurred to source the loans. The benchmarks are floating in nature and is changed based on the changes in underlying factors. Interest rate applicable on loans is linked to BHFL FRRs and varies from 8% -14%, for non Home Loan varies from 9% to 18% basis a credit score which includes without limitation, the following variables:

- a. Your employment/profession type, age and other details e. Location delinquency and collection performance.
- b. Your relationship with BHFL and repayment history f. Your declared and verified income.
- c. Credit Bureau inputs and score g. Secured Loans (Type of security/Unsecured)
- d. Your previous credit track records as per Bureau.

The above mentioned variables have been recognized as material risk explaining variables in company segmentation analysis. The aforesaid is dynamic and gets revised periodically as per the existence and performance of past portfolio and hence subject to change.
